ABOUT PIRONGIA

Mount Pirongia (959 metres) is an ancient volcano central to the 17,000 hectare Pirongia Forest Park that, with its dramatic skyline, is one of the most distinctive features in the Waikato district. The mountain offers many walking tracks of varying lengths and levels of difficulty. Visitors can experience majestic forest, melodic birdsong and pristine mountain streams.

Skirting the eastern edge of the mountain is the Waipa River, which served as the major thoroughfare for pre-European Maori as well as for early colonialists. Established on the eastern bank of the river the military village of Alexandra (later renamed Pirongia) dates back to 1864 when Waikato militia established several redoubts here as a result of the Land Wars of the 1800s.

Pirongia today, with its wide tree lined streets and attractive mountain backdrop is a very pretty village sitting astride SH 39 which serves as a popular route for travellers. The village of Pirongia is growing in reputation as more and more people are stopping to enjoy a bite to eat at one of its excellent cafés or utilizing its lovely picnic spots. It is also developing as an exciting destination which boasts a wide variety of art and craft ware, a very informative Heritage and Information Centre and also a range of other activities including horse-drawn carriage rides, a golf course with resident tui, New Zealand's oldest existing horse racing club, farm stays and rural experiences.
